Vedette Directory,
UTAH.

Area, 100, 362 square miles—Population 50,000.

The Capital, Great Salt Lake City, (Population 17,000) situated on the great highway westward, in the grand center of the golden circle connecting California, Montana, Idaho, New Mexico and Arizona. This City is one of the most beautiful in the Union, and the largest between St. Louis and Sacramento. Its scenery is majestic, and its views of "land lakes" equally grand.

The City is a square of three miles each side, and contains 290 blocks, of ten acres each (each divided into 8 lots) and 4 public squares. Its level streets, running due east and west, and about 120 feet wide, feed with shade trees along either side, marble and living streams of water flowing by both sides of every street, to irrigate the fruit trees and gardens.

The Territory is divided into twenty counties, the towns of which range from 6,000 to 600 population.

Territorial Officers.

Montana.

Parties just in from Virginia and Last Chance, Montana, report both business and mining matters mighty dull up there these days—that is, compared to what it was last year, and what it might be at present had the heavy spring rains not delayed all the diggings to such disadvantage. At Last Chance water was scarce, and several claims required to be dug into forty feet before the bedrock was struck. Popularly speaking, mining there was "petting," and parties were leaving for the latest (secession) diggings, to wit, "Blackfoot," Nelson's Gulch and White's Gulch. In Pine Grove, Summit and Virginia gulches there are few claims re-opened or being largely worked as yet, owing to the labor required to overcome the effects of the floods in season. Trade up there is dull, and those speculators who brought in trains of goods this summer are the sickest lot of chaps you ever saw."

The Virginia Post of the 17th, has the following on the markets:

"The produce market for the week has been steady. Arrivals of large trains loaded with flour, have not affected the market. Owners refusing to sell under last week's quotations. Small lots, however, from wagons or first bands, were sold at from $16 to $17.

We note but little change in the provision market, with the exception of hams, (heretofore dull at 40@15 cents,) which are now scarce—in fact the market is nearly bare, and prime canvaassed in demand at 55 cents.

There is but little gold dust offering. We quote to day:

Coin buying at 8 per cent premium for dust.

Gold Dust buying (in lots) at $18 per oz for Treasury Notes.

Gold Dust, buying at $14 50 to $15 per oz for coin.

Exchange on N. Y., selling for T. N. at 3 per cent premium.

Exchange on N. Y., selling for coin at 5 per cent premium—payable in gold.

[SPECIAL TO THE DAILY UNION VERETTE.]

Liverpool, June 5th,

Lord Palmerston has tendered a pension of 1500 pounds to Mrs. Cobden, who gratefully declined it.

The King of Belgium's health causes uneasiness.

There were fifty wrecks and much loss of life from the storm in the Baltic.

Nothing positive is known as to Napoleon's return from Algiers.

It is reported that the Spanish troops are ordered to withdraw from San Domingo at once.

The Emperor of Brazil, in opening the Chambers, referred to the Florida affair, in which the United States Government acknowledged the justice of the Brazilian reclamations.

Washington, June 18th.

The Government has received documentary proofs incontrovertible of the guilt of Jeff Davis in the matter of the inhuman and most brutal treatment of Union prisoners, and when disclosed to the public as the facts will be in a few days, they will astound the civilized world.

Washington, June 18th.

The British government has withdrawn its recognition of Confederate vessels of war and issued orders prohibiting them to enter any British port. France has also removed the restrictions on naval intercourse and has withdrawn from the Confederate character of belligerents.

New York, June 18th.

The Herald's correspondent says, Maximilian has been given a liberal subsidy to Very Cruz and the New York Steamship Line and Ben Holliday's line from Mazatlan to San Francisco.

An American company has the exclusive privilege of running a horse railroad in the City of Mexico. Another has a charter for a railway of twenty miles, between Queretaro and Guanajuato.

Patents for a large number of American inventions have been granted. A hotel on the New York plan is now building.

There is now in Mexico about 40,000 European troops, of these 28,000 are French, mostly Zouaves, 8,000 Austrians and 4,000 Belgians.

Duke de Gwinn has completely collapsed, but is still in Mexico, where he has been several months. Maximilian has never granted him an interview and never passed a word or letter with him, and is quite ignorant of his existence, while he is debarred from crossing the threshold of the palace. Maximilian is every day talking with other Americans about important enterprises for developing the resources of the empire.

Cairo, June 19th.

A flag of truce boat arrived here with 7,500 of Jeff Thompson's army, including 682 officers paroled. Jeff Thompson came as far as Memphis, where he remains awaiting the President's decision relative to his petition for pardon.

Gen. Reynolds has taken proper steps toward establishing civil courts throughout Northern Arkansas, and garrisons have been established along White river.

New Orleans dates of the 12th, report a portion of Gen. Weitzel's fleet at South West Pass.

New York, June 19th.

Additional details of the war between Brazil and Paraguay confirm the report of the defeat of the Brazilian troops.

Washington, June 19th.

The family of President Johnson and his daughter, Mrs. Patterson, have arrived and will take charge of the Executive Mansion.

New York, June 19th.

The steamer James Adger, from Cape Hayman the 13th, has arrived. Cape Hayman has been in a state of siege for seven days.

The Duke of Argyle writes a long letter to the Edinburgh Scotsman, in response to some remarks by Lord Dalhousie to show that at Cairo the United States transport Kentucky, with 900 passengers, principally paroled prisoners and friends, left Liverpool for New Orleans, on the 9th. At about nine o'clock the same night, it was discovered that the boat was taking water rapidly, and before the boat was landed she sank in about twenty feet of water. The loss of life must have been terrible, she being much crowded and sinking inside of three minutes. It is supposed that 200 perished. She had 250 horses on board, all of which were lost except three. The passengers lost everything. The paroled prisoners on board were principally members of Missouri regiments. The officers of the steamer were saved.

New York, June 20.

A Washington special says: Thirty-four warrants for pardon were issued to-day by the Secretary of State. All parties were citizens of North Carolina. None of them of note. The pardons were granted upon the suggestion of Gov. Holden. The President gives preference to persons in humble positions, in the matter of hearing petitions for pardon, and has determined to hold under advisement for the present, all applications from men of distinction. The President has likewise directed that petitions for pardon be referred especially to the Governors of the several States where applicants reside, so that the best evidence can be obtained as to the merits or demerits of the petitioners; also, that the Governors, in each case, recommend such action as to them may seem just and proper.

Col. Cooper Gibbs, in command of the post at Andersonville, is here on parole. Capt. Henry Wiers, who had control of that terrible prison pen, is also here, in confinement, awaiting trial for murdering our prisoners. The Judge Advocate has already been assigned, and is now preparing the testimony. Colonel Gibbs states that one of the modes for procuring funds for the rebellion was to obtain all the greenbacks in the possession of Union prisoners and apprehend Maximilian was previous, and apprehended a conflict with America.

On the 8th, in the Corps Legislatif, M. Jules Favre made a speech strongly condemning the Mexican expedition, and maintained that the position of Maximilian was precarious, and apprehended a conflict with America.

M. Destange, demonstrated in reply that the position of Maximilian was in no way precarious and pointed out the progress which had been made in Mexico, the effective force of the expeditionary corps, he said it did not exceed 26,000 men. Relative to the apprehensions of a conflict with America, the speaker quoted expressions of President Lincoln just before his melancholy death, to show they need not be entertained and said these expressions had become a political testament that will be carried out in good faith by those whom President Lincoln no longer governs, but whom his memory inspires. The United States, continued the speaker, now on thinking of consoling the widows and Orphans of their civil war, do not contemplate the shedding of more blood on their frontiers. The debate on the American question was further continued by the Legislator on the 9th, but nothing new was developed. M. Rambert defended the course of the Government.

The Empress Eugenie had received a letter written by the President of the United States to the Emperor, in reply to an Imperial letter, recalling Count Mercier from Washington. The text of a dispatch dated May 22d, addressed to Mr. Bigelow, American Minister, by the State Department, Washington, is published. It refers to the old friendship existing between the two nations, a friendship says the Minister, which is cordially reciprocated on our side.

The Patria I. Gazette learns that several members of the French opposition are about to send an address to President Johnson, reminding him that the first act of the French Republic in 1848, was to abolish capital punishment for political offences, suggesting to the Government of the United States the application of this principle with regard to their own political prisoners at the present time.

Gov. Holden has issued his first proclamation to the people of North Carolina and informs them a convention to alter and amend the State Constitution and to provide for the election of Governor and Legislature, and to put civil machinery in full operation, will be held at as early a period as is practicable.

Undoubted loyalty to the national Government will be required of the Delegates in the Convention and of all persons who vote. Those desiring to vote will be required to take the oath of allegiance and prove their good will to the National Government. The Governor appeals to the people to renew with chearfulness their civil pursuits and their interest in the prosperity of the State and Nation, reminding them that all of the welfare and happiness that they have, or, that they can hope for, themselves, or children, is indissolubly bound up in the Union. In announcing to the colored people that they are now free, he informs them that it rests with themselves to prove whether their freedom is a blessing, or an injury and counsels them to cultivate habits of order and industry.

St. Louis, June 20th.

All the business portion of Roilla, Mo., was burned last night, loss estimated at $200,000 and but little insurance.

Halifax, June 20th.

The Asia from Liverpool, the 10th and Queenstown the 11th, has arrived. President Johnson's Amnesty proclamation is generally canvassed. The Star propagandists is wise and generous. The Emperor has returned to Paris.

Washington, June 20th.

New York, June 20th.

Newborn dates of the eighteenth are received. Gov. Holden thinks the emancipation of loyal voters can be completed so as to have a State convention and election take place by the middle of August.

The Comercio's Washington special says: Charles A. Page, newspaper correspondent, has been appointed U. S. Consul to Zurich, Switzerland.

It is confidently expected that the army will be reduced to one hundred thousand men by new year.

President Johnson is known to favor recruitment as means of returning to specie payment, which he will recommend to Co. Gress.

Additional by steamer China dates to May 17th, state, that the American Ministers at Pekin and Japan, are returning home, the cause is not stated.

The news of Kirby Smith's surrender is builded with satisfaction and is being looked upon as conclusive evidence of the termination of the war.

The Army and Navy Gazette, says: The Army and Navy, respectively, have been brought face to face with French outposts on the Rio Grande. The same paper denounces what it terms the blood thirsty designs of President Johnson, but thinks he will shrink from the horrid proscription he threatens to carry out, when the list of southern men are made out and that the punishment of southern leaders is already terrible enough with the failure of ruin and exile.

The Proclamation of President Johnson, in removing restrictions on trade with the South is published in the Official Gazette.

The House of Commons has resumed business. No business of importance was transacted.

On the 18th, an express train on the south-eastern road, carrying passengers from France to London, was thrown off the track near Staplehurst; and ten persons killed and twenty wounded. Charles Dickens was on the train, but escaped without injury.

Sir Joseph Paxton, died on the 8th, after a protracted illness.

W. H. Russell, goes out in the Great Eastern, to write an account of the laying of the Atlantic cable; the work will be illustrated by Robert Dudley, and published by Day & Son, London.

Cyrus W. Field, had returned to London, after visiting Valencia, to arrange for laying the shore end of the cable.

New York, June 20.

The Official Diplomatic correspondence between England and America, is published, relative to the duties and privileges of British Consuls in America; it ends by Seward cheerfully according to British Consuls all privileges enjoyed by the United States Consuls in British dominions.

A correspondent of the London Times under date of the 8th, writes as follows:

It is certain that the Mexican agent who arrived in Paris, was sent by Maximilian for the express purpose of explaining the critical state of affairs in Mexico and the menacing attitude of Americans, and the fear of His Majesty that war would be declared with the United States, now that war with the South is over.

When crime's dumb bells are round these ring.

THE EMPEROR NAPOLEON has just turned fifty-seven.

THE SACRAMENTO BE says Halleck is a "land grabber and a military humbug."

FELL—The Station-house at Virginia City, N. W., was full of tenants, by last advices.

The Placerville and Sacramento Valley Railroad opened to Shingle Springs on the 16th inst.

SPEAKER COLFAX is the author of that beautiful degree in Odd Fellowship, known as the "Rebecca."

LARGER sizes ladies' gloves and gaiters meet with a more ready retail sale in this home market, than eastern outfitters can imagine!

OAT stalks, heavily headed with grain, and measuring seven feet and four inches in length, have been exhibited in Stockton, California.

THE FOURTH IN VIRGINIA (NEVADA)—Charles A. Sumner is to deliver the oration on the Fourth, at Virginia, Nevada, and J. T. Goodwin will recite a poem.

RELIGIOUS services at Rev. McLeod's church, opposite Walker Brothers', tomorrow morning and evening, at the usual hours. Also Sabbath School.

NOTHING passing strange in our yesterday's exchanges from Boise. Denny was elected delegate to Congress from Washington Territory, by a big Union majority.

It is said that a foreign photograph house now makes pocket handkerchiefs with the photograph of the owner in the corner. In some cases this addition would not be an ornament.

J. CAESAR—Louis Napoleon having run this individual in the ground, is now preparing to run him into the water. A new iron-clad frigate was put on the stocks at Paris, to be called the Jules Caesar.

PERSONAL—Capt. Casas H. Hempstead, C. S., arrived at Memphis, May 24th, on the steamer Lady Gray and would reach New Orleans on the 27th. He is in good health and enjoying the trip—so he writes.

CIVILIZATION—A Chinaman named Lee Kan has petitioned the Board of Supervisors of San Francisco, for permission to keep an "intelligence office" in that city. The Board will decide, at its next meeting, as to whether Lee Kan keep one or not.

A WRITER in the New York Tribune, from a careful review of all the statistics bearing on the question, comes to the conclusion that we have about thirty-three millions more of gold and silver in the country now than we had when the war began.

For late Pacific papers, New York pictorial, light summer reading, school books, pictures, comic photographs, stationery, etc., go to Gray's Book Stand, a few doors north of opposite the California State Telegraph Co.'s office, Main street.

BIRTH.

In Salt Lake City, May 10th, the wife of Capt. CHARLES H. HEMPSTEAD of a daughter.

We beg to make our most humble apologies to this very young lady for not announcing her arrival before.

Mr. Sloan, of Guernsey & Co.'s great boot and shoe emporium, Main Street, and Mr. W. L. Halsey, of the Banking and Exchange House, got back here yesterday from Virginia City, Montana Territory. They look as if the stalwart grub agreed with 'em on the downward trip, though they say, mosquitoes "they grow large" along the route.

LEGAL BUSINESS—Attention is directed to a card of Jas. M. Thurmond, Esq., Attorney and Counsellor at Law. It is notable by being the only member of the legal fraternity's card appearing in our columns. Tranquillant folks and parties at a distance will find Mr. Thurmond able and ready to transact any business they may have here.

The scores of gentes from Colorado who are at present here on business or on pleasure, seem to have their own good time—of evenings driving to the Springs, or seated in the shady corners of their hotel porches, interchanging ideas on men, women and things in the Territory they have left. With Golden Gate Havannas in their fingers, or over saucers of huge strawberries and cream at the resorts, the Pike's Peakers thus partake of special comfort—conversing on the genius or the beauty of this burg, or canvassing the merits and demerits of Denver social life—its silver and its spelter, its nobility and its nincmopooches—as names and names present themselves. We've found in this way fresh materials to make a volume about brethren and sisters, who were and were not very high above suspicion. Verily, go far away into the country, if you would learn the news of town.

A sad commentary on the foolishness of people, is the statement that the Davenport brothers have cleared $25,000 by 200 exhibitions of themselves.

AS GOOD AS ELECTED—A chap remarked to another, in a conversation about public matters, an evening or two ago, that Captain Hooper of this place was "as good as elected" our next Delegate to Congress; because, forsooth that Brigham had gone down below "to tell 'em how to vote"! The exclamation is ours, but it ought to be public's, if that's the way that one-man power operates in Utah.

WASHOE CRITICS—The other night, during the engagement of Gottschalk at Maguire's Opera House, Virginia City, Nevada, a discussion occurred between two silver-diggers in the gallery with reference to the relative merits of the singers, Miss Simmons and Biscaccianti. Said a hard miner, breaking in, "Talk of Miss Simmons the same day with Biscaccianti! Why just let Bis. git after Simmons and she'd howl all out of her in less than no time!"

MARKETS AND MONETARY—In consequence of the telegraph not working for a week or two past, business in buying gold dust and selling exchange was exceedingly dull and unsettled, all there was. But now that the wires are again in operation, we hope to be able, with the commencement of the week, to find reliable data for a tri-weekly money article. Our Boise and Montana friends will please consider that there is no change, from previous quotations, whenever nothing on the subject is here mentioned. The summer trains not having yet arrived, leaves the grocery, dry goods and general market mostly as it was a couple of weeks ago.

NOWTHWARD the popular remark that real estate is so high here that it takes a big balloon to reach it, there was a desirable lot purchased yesterday by Mr. Lyne, on Theatre street, next door to the Post Office, and for a rather reasonable figure. The lot is 50 feet front by 100 deep. It is intended by him to have a frame erected on it before fall, so that the city can afford a room for public entertainments that may come along, without paying four or five hundred dollars a night for the use of the "Great Salt Lake" Theatre, and begging the privilege at that. The price paid for this 50x100 lot was $3000; still enough for a quiet street. Were it around the corner, on Main street, the lot would command double to triple that amount. "Quit claim" titles to town lots in Zion cost something.

A SUBJECT—Thinking for about ten minutes for a topic to write something on, and failing utterly to find it, our taste turned to a subject which is seasonable, even if we know not what to say about it. Hold on now, patient reader, it isn't of the women or the weather, either. Strawberries are the theme. We will commence it by congratulating our dear five hundred readers hereabouts, on this strawberry-season, and implying those other interchanges of conventionality which give zest to common-place expression on the weather and the harvest,—things that everybody knows what everybody else will say about them, and yet upon which everybody speaks. Our article on this subject will of course be brief, although, like Deacon Bros., (oh, excuse us, "Governor,") our capacity for said article is unlimited. They are a subject about which the reader has felt interested and thought a thousand times as we do—that they are mighty nice to eat! Well, if the phrase won't seem a little forced, we might call this fine strawberry weather. Indeed were it not this sort of weather, even the strawberries would want relish as the cuckoo would want tone. But to begin; and would that we could bring to our assistance aids, on this sweet subject, from the philosophers and poets! Let us think.

"My Lord of Ely, when I was last in Holborn, I saw good strawberries in your garden there; I do beseech you send for some of them,"—quoth Richard the Third to the bishop, in that scene of calmness and smooth-speaking which precedes his burst of thunder against Hastings. Richard is gone with his bad passions, and the garden, too, is gone; but the tyrant is converted into poetry, and the strawberries also. Strawberries deserve all the good things that can be written of them. They are good for both the taste and teeth. They are beautiful to look at, as they are delicious to devour. It is recorded of Fontenelle, if we remember rightly, that he attributed his longevity to them. A fruit so fine deserves a better name. Nobody thinks of straw, when swallowing the strawberry. The Spanish name for it is fragrant. Its English name originated in the custom of putting straw between the fruit and ground, to keep it clean and dry. Or, perhaps, from the still older one, of threading the wild berries upon straws of grass, and selling so many straws, thus freighted, for a penny. "Strawberries and cream" is a favorite comparison for a pretty girl's lips and eyes; but that, again, is too tempting, quite, a subject to enlarge upon; and, like the former, goes far better to be tasted than talked about. So, putting theory into practice, suppose we both adjourn to our special choice, the sofa or the fruit-store, and resume this subject at some future time.

To Merchant Tailors

AND

DRY GOODS' MERCHANTS.

MESSRS. FRED. & CO., Brothers, No. 115 North Main Street, St. Louis, Mo., would respectfully inform their customers and the western trade generally, that they have in stock, and are daily adding to it, a large and selected stock of goods, bought largely, since the decline of goods, brought in from the East, and which they will sell very cheap for CASH.

Their Stock consists in part of Cloths, Cambric, Vests, Tweeds, Jeans, Linen, Drills, Cottons, Calicoes, Browns, and Colors. Drills, Cottons, Indians, together with a complete assortment of Taylors' Trimmings; also on hand a large assortment of goods, especially adapted to the Salt Lake, Denver, Virginia City and Boise trade.

Merchants of the Far West will find it to their interest to call and examine our immense stock of Blankets. We feel confident that we have the best stock of goods to supply this trade, of any house in St. Louis, and can offer inducements by selling at lower prices. Jel-3-3m

Quarter Master's Dep't U.S.A.

Proposals for Fuel.

Office Chief Quarter-Master, West Sub-District of the Plains, Camp Douglas, U. S. T., June 12th, 1863.

Sealed Proposals will be received at this Office until 12 m. the 24th day of June, 1863, for furnishing the following supplies of Quarter-Master's Stores, to be used at the Post Office at Camp Douglas, U. S. T., and such quantities as required, but the whole amount of each article required shall be delivered by the 1st day of December, 1863.

WOOD.—Three thousand (3,000) Cords.

COAL.—Two hundred (1,200) Tons.

The wood must be of the best quality, sound, and in lengths of not more than twelve feet.

The Coal must be of the best lump bituminous, and entirely free from dust. It will be weighed at Camp Douglas, free of expense to the contractor.

Contractors will specify in their bids, that they will comply with the above conditions.

Good and sufficient Bonds will be required for the faithful performance of the Contracts, and names of three sureties will be required to sign the bid.

Bids will be received for furnishing the whole amount of each article required in one bid.

Good bids also will be received for furnishing not less than 500 Cords of Wood, or 300 Tons of Coal, in any one bid.

Payments will be made in such funds, as the Government furnishes.

Contractors will be required to take the oath of allegiance.

The Government reserves to itself the right to reject any or all bids.

Any article requested to be present at the opening of proposals, at my Office, at 12 m. June 24th, 1863.

Bids will be addressed (through the Post Office, or sent to my Office, Camp Douglas, U. S. T., or to the Quartermaster General, West Sub-Dist. of the Plains, Camp Douglas, U. S. T., and endorsed "Proposals for Wood and Coal,") as the case may be.

A Woman's "No."

Building love was deep and true;
She only answered with a jest.
A mocking word, a smile at best,
At one who might or passed her.

How earnest then I tried to plead!
Her eyes roved idly here and there,
Her fingers toyed with a chain of hair,
She scarcely seemed my words to heed.

At last I said, "Then is it so?"
My darling, you have no word to say?"

She answered firmly, privately, "No."

I turned to go and leave her free,
When on my arm a hand was laid,

And in my ear a whisper said,

"I love you; O come back to me!"

[My heart beat! Particularly if he "can't see it.]

New York is the largest market for sole leather in the world, more being bought and sold in that city than in Liverpool, London and Paris combined. It is estimated that 10,000,000 hides are tanned in this country annually, requiring about 700,000 cords of bark for the operation.

RICH QUARTZ.—The Nevada Transcript tells of some rich quartz discovered in the claim of Woolsey, near Brandy Flat. There are lumps of blue cement as large as a man's head filled with pieces of gold, many of them as large as a pigeon's egg. For hours yesterday a crowd stood gazing at the treasure. Among the specimens is one of pure gold bursting out from the centre of a crest of crystallized quartz. It looks very much as though it had been the setting of a jeweler.
